Hospitality

Bedford Hospitality offers development to its employees in essential workplace skills, workplace health & safety, cash handling, food preparation, food storage, customer service and barista training.

Broadening skills in cooking and customer service in preparation for open employment continues to be a popular goal for NDIS participants. Employees become involved in the daily running of the kitchens, from placing orders with suppliers, to organising deliveries and taking on team leader roles. Weekly lunch menus feature traditional favourites, international cuisines and seasonal meals, while catering to different dietary requirements.

Gardening and Landscaping

Bedford's Adelaide Property and Gardens division (APG) has been providing extensive commercial landscape and gardening services for more than 30 years. APG offers varied services to commercial developers, local councils and private customers, across metropolitan Adelaide, regional South Australia and the Adelaide Hills.

The team has a reputation for delivering high quality service and performance in the industry that is also award winning.

APG's success is due to its commitment to providing employees with ample opportunities for personal and professional growth with tangible and transferable skill.

APG offers skills development to its employees in essential workplace skills, workplace health & safety, customer contact, landscaping, irrigation, plant and equipment use and garden maintenance.

Manufacturing

Operating across five timber processing sites and one distribution site in South Australia, Bedford Manufacturing provides relevant vocational skills and employment to over 250 people living with disability.

Bedford Manufacturing provides innovative products and services to meet customer expectations that are competitively priced and of the highest quality. Our innovative business practices have also reduced our environmental impact by recycling our timber offcuts for kindling and timber shavings as bedding for a regional poultry business.

Our manufacturing area also produces furniture and storage solutions which are wholesaled to Bunnings nationally.

Manufacturing offers development to its employees in essential workplace skills, workplace health & safety, machine operations, timber preparation, cutting and finishing.

Packaging

Bedford provides a complete commercial packaging service, from a one-off task to complete coordination and project management for an impressive mix of companies. This service has a reputation for high quality performance while also offering corporate social responsibility acknowledgement for commercial businesses.

Supported employees in Packaging work across a wide range of areas and roles including 3D printing, labelling or de-labelling wine bottles, packaging food and medical products, flow wrapping and much more.

Packaging offers development to its employees in essential workplace skills, workplace health & safety, assembly, housekeeping, labelling, stores, with advanced duties in pallet movers and minor maintenance.

Cleaning

Bedford cleaning is an internal operations division that offers development to its employees in essential workplace skills, workplace health & safety, clean room environments, hard and soft floor cleaning, wet areas, chemical identification and use, how to use various plant and equipment, amenities cleaning, tidy environments and recycling.
